Mr. Arbin,

My husband and I spent a week at the Carousel in OC/MD. We just wanted you to know, I am sure he already did, that your Beach Patrol/Life guards did an excellent job, especially a young lady named Mandy. 😊 I was just amazed watching her everyday, from the time she had to ALONE...position her stand, watching the people in the water and on the sand, and with in a blink of an eye she was in the water helping an older woman to her knees and to her endless running in the water to save or assist the people that were being sucked in by the waves. She handled herself very professionally and was also very friends and upbeat. I don't know how much life guards get paid, but she earned it and then some.

As I go through life, in today's world, there aren't too many times I am impressed by people and can truly say, they were amazing, but Mandy surely was, and I want you to know it, and especially Mandy, - good job, way to go girl!

Sincerely,
 Judy Martino

OCBP Question-of-the-Week for The Worcester County Times

This Week's Question: I was staying on the beach in one of the high rises in the northern end of Ocean City, when the guard pulled everyone together and told us to be careful because the shorebreak was expected to be particularly bad. Although the lifeguard explained to all of us the dangers of shorebreak, what else can you tell me about this type of danger?

Before you can understand shorebreak, you need to understand a little bit about wave action and the contour of the ocean's bottom close to shore. A wave is a body of water moving along the surface of the ocean. It loses speed and gains height when it approaches the shore. As this happens, the depth of the water below the wave is becoming increasing more shallow. The size of the wave is affected by how strong the wind is, the direction from which it is blowing and tropical activity in the Atlantic. As tropical events form and approach the east coast they cause large and sometimes rough surf especially in late July and August. As a wave passes over the ocean bottom and the depth decreases, the energy of the wave is forced up until the wave can no longer maintain its form and it breaks (top of wave plunges forward). Depending on the tide, and the depth of the water, the waves may break on the sandbar causing the force of the wave to plunge into the deeper trough (this is the type of wave that is appropriate for body surfing or body boarding). However, during high tide the depth of the water over the sandbar will allow the wave to continue toward the beach continuing to build in size until it eventually runs out of water depth as it arrives on the beach. When this happens, the wave will break on the shoreline with all of its crushing force. This is what we call shorebreak and consequently, swimmers in shorebreak, land directly on the sand. These waves are unpredictable and dangerous because they can cause serious shoulder, neck, and spinal injuries to even the most experienced swimmer. The beach patrol recommends that you never attempt to ride waves that are breaking on the shore or play in the impact zone (the area where the force of the wave is being delivered) Although the beach patrol treats even the most minor injury to the head (abrasion on forehead, bloody nose etc.) as though it was a life and death spinal cord injury, most turn out to be minor muscular injuries rather than the more serious fractures of the vertebral column. Of the suspected head/neck and spinal injuries we respond to, 60% are caused by swimmers who ride a wave into shore incorrectly, and the other 40% are caused by swimmers diving into shallow water or doing tricks such as flips and striking their head or neck on the ocean floor.

Be reassured that when the need arises, the Ocean City Beach Patrol is ready to respond. We have worked with trauma doctors to develop a specialized technique to manage suspected head, neck and back injuries. Although every Surf Rescue Technician is trained and skilled in the use of these techniques it is far better for our beach patrons to have injuries prevented rather than treated. When body surfing, we recommend doing so with your head up and your arms out in front of the body to protect yourself. If using a boogie board, make sure you keep it out in front of you to prevent your head from hitting the shore (ride on the back half).

Taking responsibility for your own actions and spreading the caution about spinal cord injuries is the greatest form of prevention we have. Many people just do not realize that wet sand is just as un-yielding as concrete and that it is the bones of the spinal column that cause the damage and possible paralysis that results from the impact of your head, neck or back with the beach. Most people would never think of attempting a flip in the middle of a parking lot for fear of striking the ground. However, many of these same individuals will attempt these aerial maneuvers on the beach or into a few inches of ocean water, with the all too often result, of witnessing our spinal stabilization technique first hand. Please, use your head to protect your spine and think before diving or riding breaking waves into the beach. Have fun but remain safe! The beach patrol reminds you to always check water depth before diving. Our saying is, "Feet first, first time" which is to remind you to walk out into the surf rather than running and diving. Whenever in doubt, please feel free to ask the lifeguard on duty what the current conditions are.

Striking the ocean bottom with your head or neck may cause serious injuries, paralysis, or death. "Feet first, first time." To check the water depth.

Crew Chief Travis Wagner

Crew Chief Travis Wagner has been a member of the OCBP for 8 years, with the last 5 as Crew Chief. He sits in Crew 15 at 120th St. He is an active member of the USLA, the competition and dive teams. Travis also instructs for the OCBPSRA events. He hopes to continue working for the OCBP for many years to come.

During the off-season, Travis is a high school Spanish teacher and coaches the varsity swim team. For recreation, he trains for triathlons, surfs, dives, and travels.

The lifeguard's of the Ocean City Beach Patrol are glad to answer any of your beach and water safety questions.

End-of-Year Information Regarding Last Days

The following is a reminder from Lt. Stone: You are required to turn in a “Last Day of Full Time Work” form two weeks prior to your last day of full time work. The forms have been available since Memorial Day weekend on the Beach Patrol web site.

All employees must complete the following THREE STEPS!

1. Turn in a completed “Notification of Last Day of Full Time Work” form. *
2. Provide official verification (documentation) from your institution or school supporting your need to return at this time. * (If you turned it in with your original paper work, you do not need to provide it again).
3. Fulfill your employment agreement.

*REQUIRED OF ALL EMPLOYEES

Listed below are the requirements concerning “Notification of Last Day of Full Time Work” forms. The requirements are noted on the following forms with your initials and/or signature.

Invitation Letter

As a result of this new emphasis on availability you are required to provide “official” documentation of your last day of full-time work, BEFORE you will be considered for a position with the patrol for the 2012 season.

EMPLOYEE AGREEMENT FORM

AGREEMENT:

If appointed, I hereby agree to work from the date of acceptance until 5:30 PM on the last day I have indicated above. I shall file a “Concluding Date of Full Time Work” Form, including necessary documentation, with the Captain two (2) weeks prior to my last day of work.

My signature indicates that I have read the above Agreement, understand it, and do hereby agree to honor all terms set forth, and realize that failure to do so may result in a less than satisfactory final evaluation and/or immediate termination.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

(Effective Date: May 21, 2012)

Initial each statement in the blank next to the number as an indication that you have read and understood that policy and/or procedure

____ 5. Last Day of Full Time Work: You are required to complete an exit form two weeks prior to your last day of work. This policy includes those who plan to work through Sunfest Sunday. This date should not vary from the date you indicated on your employment agreement or the required documentation you submitted at registration and may affect your eligibility for employment anytime in the future. Form is available on website as a PDF.

NOTIFICATION OF LAST DAY OF FULL TIME WORK

PLEASE PROVIDE THE BEACH PATROL WITH OFFICIAL VERIFICATION FROM YOUR SCHOOL SUPPORTING YOUR NEED TO RETURN AT THIS TIME (i.e., SCHOOL GENERATED SCHEDULE OF CLASSES, LETTER FROM ADMINISTRATION OFFICES, COPY OF YOUR SCHEDULE).

Policies and Procedures are covered in each training class, and Lt. Stone covers the Last Day forms and Personal Data forms in detail during training. Captain Arbin also refers to this information at the weekly meetings. Don't miss out on being invited back!

Ocean City, MD 21842

Dear Butch:

I am writing to inform you that the Annual Blessing of the Ocean will take place on Wednesday, August 15, 2012. The procession to the beach will follow the 10:00 am Mass at Holy Day or Church. Following Mass at approximately 11:00 am, the procession to the beach will take place.

At the beach, there will be several prayers including a prayer for the Beach Patrol. I would like to invite any member of the Beach Patrol to join us at the beach on 17th Street. In the past years, the Beach Patrol has been represented and it serves as both good public relations for the Beach Patrol and an opportunity for them to receive recognition for their hard work and dedication.

Again, I hope that the Beach Patrol will be represented at this event. I ask you to extend my personal invitation to the men and women of the Ocean City Beach Patrol.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter and for all that the Beach Patrol does to insure the safety of our beaches.

Sincerely in Christ,

Captain Butch Arbin
Ocean City Beach Patrol

Ocean City, MD 21842

Dear Captain,

On behalf of the National Aquarium, I want to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for your assistance with a free stranded Atlantic spotted dolphin at the south jetty of the Ocean City, on the north end of Assateague Island National Seashore on Sunday, July 15, 2012.

Access to the animal, and retrieval of the animal off the Island was a challenge due to the location on the north end of the island. I would like to extend my gratitude to Mar Pustell, John Miller, Taylor Warren, and Brent Warren for their assistance with responding to the event, including coordinating triage of the animal on the beach, providing outboard, and assisting with transportation of retrieving the animal from the beach. Unfortunately, the condition of the animal deteriorated during transport and the animal died. While this outcome is unfortunate, we learned a lot from this event. A full necropsy (animal autopsy) was performed, and we found an intact waterman's glove (black coated and cloth lined) in the stomach of the animal, which likely played a major role in causing the animal to strand.

It is cooperative efforts like this that make the Maryland stranding response team such a strong one. We continue to appreciate our relationship with the Ocean City Beach Patrol, and look forward to working with you again in the future.

Sincerely,

Ocean City Police Seeking Public's Assistance in Identifying Assault Suspect

Posted on July 28, 2012 by jwaters

The Ocean City Police Department is requesting the public's assistance in locating the suspect in recent attempted sexual assaults that have occurred in poorly lit, semi-secluded areas near bar establishments. The most recent occurred on July 28, 2012 during the early morning hours.

In each case, a female victim was under the influence of alcohol, alone and walking home when an unknown male initiated a conversation with the victim. After initiating conversation, the unknown male suspect then forces the victim to the ground and attempts to sexually assault them.

The suspect is described as a white male, approximately 5'10", approximately 170 pounds, and in his mid-20's to early 30's.

Ocean City Police are asking anyone with information about similar incidents, and/or the suspect involved to please contact Detective Simpson of the Ocean City's Criminal Investigation Division at 410-520-5349. Those providing information may remain anonymous.

The OCPD is reminding residents and visitors to use the buddy-system and not walk alone, avoid excessive alcohol consumption, be aware of your surroundings, and walk in highly traveled public areas.

Ocean City Police Advising Citizens of Wanted Subject

Posted on August 4, 2012 by jwaters

Ocean City Police are advising residents and citizens about a wanted suspect who was involved in an armed robbery that occurred earlier today, August 3, 2012, at approximately 5 p.m. in the area of Rt. 50 and Rt. 589. Charles Rich Conden fled from the vehicle in the area of 100th Street prior to the police apprehending the other four suspects.

The Ocean City Police Department has received information that Conden is armed with a handgun. Conden is a white male, 19-years-old, 5'09, and 150lbs and has a clown tattoo with profane words under it. Ocean City Police are advising citizens to use caution when coming in contact with Conden. Citizens are advised anyone coming into contact with Conden not to approach this subject and should immediately contact the Ocean City Police Department at: 410-723-6600 or call 911.
